COMPANY OFFERINGS

Professional Services

Our consultants will assess your business needs and gather requirements that address your goals. Our methodology considers all stages of the project from preliminary business requirements evaluation, to post-implementation support, training, and maintenance. We can help assess your needs and identify your business drivers. We will implement, configure and support the optimal solution, provide knowledge transfer and an effective roll-out plan.

Software Licensing

Newcomp's team can help you navigate through the IBM systems and agreements by acting as a liaison between you and IBM. We will assess what licenses are necessary for your workforce so that you do not under- or over-buy and keep you informed of any changes to the licensing structure.

IBM Training and Education

Newcomp works closely with the IBM training and education team to navigate and understand the training paths available to each type of user. So whether you are an end-user, an application developer, or a business analyst, we have the knowledge and expertise to guide you in determining the best learning path for each individual student.

IBM Software Renewals

Our IBM Licensing Specialists can assist you with managing and tracking your support renewals. Newcomp can help you through the renewal process and guide you through any potential challenges.
